This is all because of you, you are all AMAZING and have helped me also to become the mummy that I am. It made going to work a lot easier as you always made me feel confident that I am leaving my little boy with the best possible people.'

Tracking Children's Development

We track and monitor children's development through focus weeks. Every child becomes a focus child for 1-2 weeks (depending on how many sessions they attend each week) and this will occur every 6-8 weeks. Before their focus week, the key person and parents will meet to discuss their child's current development, any interests they may have, any changes within the family home or environment and any targets they may have. This will enable the Key person and other staff within the child's class to home in on where the child is currently working, and how they can best support the child in developing further, by enhancing their learning through identification of any teachable moments that may appear throughout the focus week and recording them.

At the end of the child focus week, the key person and parents will meet again to discuss the progress made and the next steps their child will be focusing. This will be documented within the end of focus week assessment in which parents will have the opportunity to make comments and sign.

It is important to understand that although we only record teachable moments that happen during the child's focus week, we are continuously supporting all children through teachable moments every single day, which ensures they are continuously being supported in enhancing their learning, we just don't record it. We would rather spend time with the children, encouraging learning and supporting them individually, than sat in a corner writing and documenting everything. Children can actively show us and celebrate the achievements they make, without us writing it down and documenting it.

Based on children's interest, we will carry out a number of different activities and events to further support their learning. Every year we look at different life cycles and hatch our own ducklings and butterflies.

Our Curriculum (The Rainbow Corner Curriculum)

Our Ethos: The children are at the heart of everything we do. We strive to provide a happy, safe, caring, secure and stimulating environment for every child. Enabling all children to develop their capabilities of being resilient, confident individuals; inclusive, kind, and respectful citizens; and aspirational learners.

Pedagogy: Through use of In the Moment

Planning (ITMP), children are able to free flow throughout their designated rooms and gardens, while taking part in activities set out to follow their individual interests. We use both adult and child-initiated play to support learning, encouraging children to develop and practice on already learnt skills, to enable growth and tests their abilities giving them the appropriate challenge required in going that extra step and enhancing their learning. We work with parents in establishing their child's starting points and use these to inform our interactions and to extend cultural capital, this learning is then tracked through focus weeks. We focus on a small group of children (5 to 10) each week to identify their current progress and next steps of learning, this is shared with their parents and carers to support further learning both at home and within the setting. This allows children to be in charge of how they learn, enabling us to support with what they learn.

Calling all parents – childcare offers launched by the government

What is available through the childcare service?

Tax-Free Childcare will be available for children under 12 years old (under 17 years old for disabled children) and can be used to contribute towards nursery, childminder and after-school care. To be eligible, parents must be in work (including self-employment) and each earning at least £120 per week and not more than £100,000 per year.

The offer will be introduced to parents with the youngest children first and gradually rolled out so that all parents will be able to apply by the end of 2017.

Childcare providers must have signed up to be able to receive payments from Tax-Free Childcare.

Parents will be able to check their eligibility now using the online childcare calculator www.gov.uk/childcare-calculator and, if eligible, submit an online application ahead of September. Once signed up, parents will receive an eligibility code to take to their childcare provider. Childcare providers will then check the code with their local authority. If eligible, parents can book their 30 hours place.

Tax Free Childcare is an online payment account, topped up by the Government, which parents use solely to pay their childcare costs. For every £8 that families pay in, the Government will make a top-up payment of £2, up to a maximum of £2,000 per child per year (or £4,000 for disabled children).
